INVESTIGATION

Made at the Request of Exemption Board—The Names and Ages of Twenty-seven Colored Men Employed on Railroad Extra Force Is Taken By Police.

The Mason County Exemption Board Saturday started an investigation into whether or not a large force of colored men employed in an "extra force gang" on the C. & O. railroad and now camped in cars at the railroad switch at Poplar street, had complied with the requirements of the Selective Service Draft Law.

The Board members had every reason to believe that there were quite a number of these young colored men who were evading the law and who had not registered on national selective service registration day.

At the request of the Board members of the local police force visited the camp and took the names and addresses of the men who were under thirty-one years of age and a careful investigation will be made.

CHECK WORKER ARRESTED

Passes Several Bad Checks on Local Business Men and Is Trained to Manchester—He Is Returned to This City.

A. E. Jones, of Urbana, Ill., was arrested in Manchester, Ohio, by the marshal of that town late Friday night at the request of Squire Fred W. Bauer and was returned here Saturday by Constable James McNamara, the prisoner having agreed to return to Maysville without requisition papers.

The man is being held under two charges, one of robbery and the other of passing worthless paper.

All day Friday Jones with the assistance of Arthur Gill, local man, who is also in jail on a charge of aiding and abetting, passed worthless checks on local business men for purchases and in some instances secured money for the entire amount of the check. Mr. Arthur Dale, proprietor of a soft drink stand on Market street, is the heaviest loser as he planked down $21.10 in cash for a bad check when Arthur Gill told that Jones was all right and so was his paper.

Another one of the checks was turned over to the proprietor of a local hotel for a board bill and still another was passed on an East End groceryman for groceries. A telegram from the Illinois bank upon which the checks were drawn was to the effect that they were no good and would not be honored.

The charge of robbery also placed against Jones grew out of a little escapade in a local pool room a few nights ago. It seems as though Jones and another man were playing pool and when Jones' opponent in the game started to pay for the game he drew a ten dollar bill which the pool room man could not change. Jones snatched the ten dollar bill out of the man's hand and told him that he would get it changed. He left the pool room and did not return.

The check case will be heard before Squire Fred W. Bauer this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

INTENTIONAL

Instead of Accidental Was the Shooting of Little Bessie Johnson Friday in Dieterich's Lane—Warner to Appear Before Juvenile Judge Rice This Afternoon.

Developments Saturday in the shooting of Bessie Johnson 12, by George Whaley 12, which occurred in Dieterich's Lane on Friday afternoon, show that the act was other than accidental as was first thought.

Saturday afternoon at the Hospital authorities were aroused by a remark by the girl which caused them to procure Warner and bring him to her bedside, and her statement was taken by the police.

Bessie, who is the daughter of Mrs. Charles Johnson, and who takes care of her younger brothers and sisters while her parents work in the Stemery, makes the statement that her youngest sister had been taken to the Warner home by George Warner's sister and after being there some little time she went to their home to get the child. On entering the door she was demanded to "stop" and states she drew the rifle up, which he had in his hands and shot.

The boys uncle is on a hundred dollar recognizance bond for his nephew, who appeared yesterday before Judge Whitaker at 2 o'clock. The bond was continued until today, when the boy will be turned over to Juvenile Judge Rice, he being but 12 years of age and not fifteen as stated Saturday.

At press time the little girl although very low was still living with very little chance of recovery.

FAREWELL SERMON

Rev. N. F. Jones Gives Pastorate of the First Baptist Church to Accept Word of Explaining New Financial System Throughout the State.

Rev. N. F. Jones preached his farewell sermon to the membership of the First Baptist Church yesterday.

Mr. Jones gives up the pastorate of the local church to accept a position with the Baptist State Mission Board as "Key Budget Man" and will spend his entire time in the future traveling from city to city to explain to the many Baptist churches in this district of the state the new "Budget Plan of Church Finance."

During his short pastorate of only a few months here, Mr. Jones accomplished much in the way of building up the local church. He is an energetic pastor and one of the best preachers the local church has had in recent years. Being of an evangelistic work when he accepted the call to the local church. Realizing this and knowing that he had given the new financial system much study and thoroughly understood it, the State Board called on him to undertake the great work of informing every Baptist in many counties the whole meaning of the new system.

During their short stay in our city, Mr. Jones and his family have made many friends who will be more than glad to know that although he gives up the pastorate here, the family will continue to reside here and he will make this city his permanent headquarters.

Although the pulpit committee of the local church is in touch with several prospective pastors, no definite step toward calling a pastor to take up Mr. Jones' work has been taken. It is more than likely that such a step will be taken in the very near future, however.

STRIKES POLE

Mr. Donald Wood to Avoid Striking a Pedestrian Runs Car Into Telephone Pole—Robert Owens Slightly Injured and Car Badly Damaged.

Saturday afternoon while motoring over the streets of the city Mr. Donald Wood and Mr. Robert Owens, Jr., in the former's car were confronted with a puzzling situation to be decided in no length of time.

As they were coming East on West Second near the residence of Mr. E. T. Kirk, a man walked out directly in front of the car a large Buick driven by Mr. Wood and going at average speed. To hit the man or hit the telephone pole on the curb "that was the question." So the car was turned to the pole with the result that Mr. Owens who was also riding on the front seat received several slight scalp wounds, caused by the breaking of the wind shield. Mr. Wood escaped uninjured.

The car was badly damaged, the fenders being considerably bent the wind shield broken and a wheel or two demolished.

NEWTON D. BAKER STILL TALKS

In an account of a visit paid by the Secretary of War to Camp Sherman at Chillicothe, Ohio, published in The Herald Wednesday, the 12th, Mr. Baker is quoted as saying:

"On behalf of the War Department, I want to turn over to you this great trust of caring for these men." "It is a trust I feel, and I believe you feel, cannot be overestimated—the caring for the thousands who, like us, have had this thing thrust upon them almost overnight, and who, like most of us, are strangers to things military."

How can a man of sufficient intelligence to be a War Minister of a great nation in this world crisis still state that the war came to us suddenly?

Every citizen of America had warning for two and a half years that there was probability of our being forced into the war. Not even the Secretary of War could have escaped the knowledge that there was, as expressed by President Wilson nearly two years ago, "a world conflagration, and a danger of sparks from that conflagration being carried to our shores to kindle here the flames of war."

Yet after those bloody months of warning the Secretary of War, two months after the declaration of war, proclaimed that there "is disorder and confusion, but it is a happy confusion," and then expressed his "delight" that we were not prepared for war.

Now, five months and more after the declaration of war, seven months after the breaking of diplomatic relations, two years and a half after the sinking of the Lusitania, this unaccountable pose still attempts to create a smoke cloud behind which he may hide the inefficiency of the War Department by saying that the war was thrust upon us almost overnight. He, however, for once tells the truth when he indicates that he and those for whom he speaks "are strangers to things military."

A silk purse cannot be made out of a sow's ear; a sheep cannot lead an army of lions; a half baked socialistic pacifist without the instinct of the fighting man, or the mental honesty of the courageous man, cannot face nor master the problems involved in the vast war of the world.

Never in all the history of mankind was there a greater tragedy than our failure to be prepared to play our part. Had it not been for the criminal act of the War Department in demobilizing the National Guard after the severing of diplomatic relations with Germany, it would have been possible to have sent the force trained on the Mexican border, expanded to twice its size, to Europe early in the summer. We could already have had a half million men to aid France and Belgium and England. But even now, five months after the declaration of war, Quartermaster General Sharp testifies before the House Committee on Appropriations that it will be impossible to fully equip more than a hundred and fifty thousand of the draft before November 1st.

Dill-dallying, shilly-shallying, beginning to get ready to prepare to start to equip an army, the news from France of the difficulties in the formation of a new cabinet, the news from Russia of the civil war that is imminent, the news from England of the seduction of Arthur Henderson and his co-workers by the socialistic agitators being used by Germany in its propaganda for peace, all emphasize the dire need for our fighting force in France. There is no persistence, no consistency in the policies of the War Department, nor will there ever be as long as Newton Baker is Secretary of War.

We take from Collier's Weekly an editorial indicating the hopelessness of expecting any real effective work by the Secretary of War, and the need for speed, which is a word unknown to the Secretary of War in preparing for war.

SPEED!

"The War College Division earnestly recommends that no American troops be employed in active service in any European theatre until after an adequate period of training, and that during this period all...the regular army or National Guard be employed in training the new levies....Cooperation between the United States and the Entente Allies has not yet been so far planned as that any decision has been reached upon the subject of sending an expeditionary force." These sentences and their crazy implication that we ought to send no troops till ready to send all our troops have an ancient sound now, yet they were written so recently as April 13, forming part of a letter from Secretary of War Baker to Theodore Roosevelt. Fortunately for our chances in the present war and in the future, the "earnest" urgings of the elderly gentlemen who compose the War College Division at Washington were in due time overridden. It is hard to imagine just what the plan of our undermanned War College was for America's part in the war, but it is pretty clear that the elderly gentlemen saw it as a purely technical problem, rather than as a problem partly technical, partly human. What follows comes to us in a private letter from France. It is written by an American volunteer serving with a French artillery regiment: "Isn't America more interested in turning out a swell fire brigade than in putting out the fire? And the fire is raging, believe me. And aren't we also making the fatal mistake of planning for a three-year's war, just like the English? The French have already borne the brunt of the fighting for three years. They can't keep it up for six. Speed, Speed, SPEED: that should be our motto back home, and death to political prejudices and fads."

Defective ammunition sent with the armful of men under General Pershing; failure to prepare our troops to be sent until the submarine warfare has diminished the number of ships; no possibility of sending the National Army for fully a year after the declaration of war, there has as yet been no indication that it is possible for Newton Baker to realize that the one and only test of our capacity to prosecute this war successfully is to have fighting men in Europe to meet the soldiers of the Kaiser.

And for him to go about the country prating about being surprised and confessing that he and his conferees "are strangers to things military" proves that he not yet has realized, nor will ever realize, the duties of a War Minister in a real war.

As the organizer of a force for ping pong, or a team for croquet, or to get up a contest for mumble-the-peg he would be a howling success. But as a War Minister he is a tragic failure. No man arrested as an I. W. W. has done or can ever do one-tenth the damage to the American army, nor cause so great loss of life and treasure as has Newton D. Baker, who still by the grace of the President remains as War Minister.—Lexington Herald.

THE ARMY AND NAVY DEPARTMENT OF THE KENTUCKY SUNDAY SCHOOL ASSOCIATION

At the last meeting of the Executive Committee of the Kentucky Sunday School Association, it was unanimously voted to establish a Department to be called "The Army and Navy Department of the Kentucky Sunday School Association," to be in operation so long as the present war made it necessary.

Purpose

The purpose of the department is to project the influence of the Church and Sunday School into the lives of all "Kentucky Boys," wherever they may be located in the army and navy, and to assist in bringing the influence of the Kentucky Churches and Sunday Schools into the lives of all soldiers who may be located in our State.

The following needs are suggested:

1. That all small groups of men guarding tunnels, bridges, pull-out buildings, etc., be located. That some Sunday School in the neighborhood secure all the soldiers in these groups as Extension Members, visit them frequently, see that they get the Sunday School quarterly regularly, present them with Bibles, good books, flowers, candy and comforts as often as possible. Arrange that when they come to town they meet the proper kind of people.

2. That every Sunday School for a full list of its members who have enlisted, that this roll occupy a place of honor on the wall of the school. That prayer be offered regularly every Sunday for these absent members, and that the members be notified of such action. That the Sunday School literature be sent them regularly, and that the Sunday School keep in touch with these men by means of letters from the pastor, superintendent, teacher and others, and through gifts of candy, books or other remembrances that would bring comfort and joy, and that they be asked to write to the school from time to time of their experiences.

3. That all "Kentucky Boys" who enlist be located, and where they are not now members of any Church or Sunday School, they be encouraged to enter the Christian life. That the Christian men in the camp, and the Sunday School at home, combine forces to bring about such result.

4. That the "Boys" from other States who come to Kentucky in any of the camps be reached and helped in right living.

5. That track be kept of the "Boys" who enlist in the Navy, and the same influence be brought into their lives as are brought into the lives of those in the Army, and that, so far as possible, the same plans be used.

Plans

The general plan shall be one of complete organization, using, where possible, the existing county and district organizations.

1. That there be a General and staff of Officers to supervise the work of the entire State.

2. That there be a Colonel for each county, who shall have his staff of officers.

3. That by correspondence and personal visitation, the organization be perfected in every part of the State. That all the facts be secured and reported to the State Office.

4. That the county organization get all the information in regard to its county—the number of men enlisted, from what community or town, and from what Churches and Sunday Schools—that all camps and groups be located; that lists be made of all Sunday Schools willing to assist, and the kind of assistance willing to render. That the work be so systematized that no one will be neglected, and that there will not be an overlapping of the work by different agencies.

5. That the work become one of Community Interest. That when a complete list of the men of a community or county who have enlisted can be secured, it be printed in the local papers. That there be arrangements made for the observance of community patriotic days.

Volunteers Wanted

All persons who are willing to give some time to this Department are invited to write to the Kentucky Sunday School Association.

All Sunday Schools that are desirous of having a part in this patriotic service should also correspond with the Association.

Finances

There will be no public appeal for funds for this work. The money needed for printing, postage, traveling expenses and extra help in the office will be met by voluntary contributions from those who believe this an opportunity to help bring the truest and most lasting peace out of these times of war.

WOMEN'S NEW WORK

Many Industries Employing Women For First Time—Women Replacing Men Who Have Been Called To War.

Although women may not have obtained their full political rights, they have firmly established themselves in the new industrial world, particularly since the beginning of the great war. They are to be found doing men's work in hundreds of industries and they are doing it well, so well, in fact, that they will never be replaced by men. In Europe, the women are the chief part of the armies of industry that supply the armies in the field, while in Russia they are even on the firing line in the famous "Battalion of Death." They are making munitions, running tram-cars, driving taxis and ambulances and are holding thousands of other positions formerly held by men. The men who held these positions have been called to the colors.

In this country, the women have begun to branch out in all directions. At the docks of the Bush Terminal Co., in Brooklyn, N. Y., they are acting as stevedores and handling small electric trolleys that carry the freight to and fro. In the railroad yards of the Erie R. R. Co., they are cleaning cars and doing other work hitherto done by men and several other railroads are using them for similar work. In New York City, they are running elevators, one instance being the Martha Washington Hotel where they have entirely replaced the men, and are being trained to take men's places in a number of other trades.

Women have come into their own in the airplane industry with great speed. The enormous demand for airplanes has led to great expansion and the Standard Aero Corporation of New York, employs women exclusively in its wing department. Other airplane makers have followed the Standard lead and all are gratified with the good service given by the women. The Standard Corporation is building the training machines for the Government and the work done by the women is most important.

In the electrical industry women have also scored heavily. Nearly twenty years ago, Dr. Schuyler S. Wheeler, president of the Crocker-Wheeler Company, of Amper, N. J., encountered great opposition when he put women to work in the winding department of the factory. His judgment has proved good, since the women have done the work most efficiently and are being employed in increasing numbers, more than 100 working in the winding room alone. This Company is also doing work for the Government and it is a tribute to the ability of the women that they are doing their part. More recently other electrical manufacturing companies have followed the Crocker-Wheeler lead and are employing women to do work hitherto done by men.

In the automobile industry women are beginning to do much of the lighter work and in many places, have replaced men as chauffeurs. They drive carefully and well and the time is not far distant when women taxi-drivers will be more women than men. Women are entering practically every industry in this country and what is more, they are "making good" everywhere.

URIC ACID IN YOUR FOOD

Maysville People Must Learn the Danger of a Heavy Meat Diet.

Even dogs can eat too much meat. Certainly, many people "dig their graves with their teeth."

Few get enough exercise to justify meat more than once a day.

Meat brings uric acid.

The kidneys try hard to get rid of that poison.

But often a backache or some other unusual ill.

Will show that the kidneys need help.

The time-tried remedy, then, is Doan's Kidney Pills.

The remedy backed by Maysville testimony.

Read this case.

Mrs. W. A. Schatzmann, 605 E. Second street, Maysville, says: "From the benefit I have received from Doan's Kidney Pills, which I buy at Chas. R. Drug Store, I have every reason to recommend them. Whenever my kidneys have been irregular in action or I have suffered from weakness and loss of energy in the small of my back, I have used Doan's Kidney Pills. They have always proven sufficient to quickly cure and attack."

Mrs. Schatzmann is only one of many Maysville people who have gratefully endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills. If your back aches—if your kidneys bother you, don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS—the same that Mrs. Schatzmann uses—the remedy backed by home testimony.

Queen Victoria of Sweden, who has been brought prominently into the public eye by her alleged pro-Germans, has never enjoyed much popularity with the people of Sweden. For many years, because of reasons of health, she has spent little of her time in Stockholm, residing during the greater part of the year with her relatives at Carlshus, or else in Italy or the south of France.

RAPID GROWTH OF THE BIRTH REGISTRATION AREA

Washington, D. C., September 12—Congratulations to Maryland, Virginia, and Kentucky, the latest states to be admitted to the Registration Area for Births by the Director of the Census, Sam L. Rogers.

The Registration Area for Births was established in 1915 and was then composed of ten states and the District of Columbia, representing 10 per cent of the territorial extent of the United States but containing 31 per cent of the country's population. For this area the Bureau of the Census has recently issued its first annual report, entitled "Birth Statistics." As the area grows the annual reports will deal with the births in a constantly increasing portion of the country and will, therefore, become of constantly increasing interest and value.

The outlook for a very rapid growth of this Registration Area for Births is so good that a word of cheer to the states outside should be given. The need of complete birth registration is recognized now as never before. The age of the soldier must be known, and so a new argument for birth registration comes to the United States. Since war was declared tests of the completeness of birth registration have been made by special agents of the Census Bureau in Virginia and Kentucky, and both these states secured a rating of over 90 per cent, which represents the degree of completeness required for admission to the area.

Similar tests are now being made in Indiana and New Jersey, and before the year is over will be conducted in North Carolina, Ohio, Utah, and Wisconsin. Several other states are nearly ready to seek admission, and it is by no means a wild prediction that the Birth Registration Area within the next two years will be more than trebled in size and will contain over two-thirds of the population of the United States.

One physician recently became so thoroughly aroused to the desirability of recording births that he reported to the local registrar 450 births which had occurred in his practice since 1900.

Parents and physicians everywhere are awakening to the importance of this matter and the fashion now is to register baby's birth.

Doctors prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Catarrh is a local disease, greatly influenced by constitutional conditions and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Medicine, manufactured by F. J. LIBERTY WAREHOUSE

Is the Place Decided Upon to Hold the Corn and Tobacco Fair This Year — Other Arrangements Are Being Made For the Success of the Fair.

At a meeting of the directing committee of the Corn and Tobacco Fair it was definitely settled that the 1917 fair will be held in the Liberty Warehouse, where it was held last year. Although several of the other warehouse companies offered their buildings it was decided that the Liberty was the best fitted for the fair and would be plenty large enough.

The contract for decorating the building was awarded to the William Beck & Sons Company, this firm had charge of the decorating last year. It was the opinion that a committee appointed by the Woman's Club could best handle the compiling of a premium list, for all handiwork. The Secretary was instructed to communicate with some of the best bands in an endeavor to find out who were available at the time of the fair.

Messrs. E. T. Kirk, E. Frank Boyd and A. M. Casey were appointed a committee to plan the exhibition and premium list for the agricultural and tobacco departments, and Messrs. George Dodson and H. P. Purnell were appointed a committee to plan exhibits and premium list for the poultry department which promises to be a big feature of the fair.

The Secretary was also instructed to communicate with the State authorities and notify them of the acceptance of their offer to make a "Good Roads" display if the fair committee would furnish the booth.

From here it looks as though the big 1917 Corn and Tobacco Fair will be one of the biggest things ever attempted in this section of the country.

BOY IS APPRENTICED

In the Mason County Court Saturday afternoon on motion of Arthur B. Gill, father of William N. Gill, an infant nine years of age, said William N. Gill was apprenticed to John Hotze until he is twenty-one years of age to learn the avocation of farming. Immediately thereafter the said John Hotze entered into the usual apprenticeship agreement which was made a matter of record in the court. This is a very unusual order but in years ago a very common one. This order made Saturday is the third made in the Mason County Court within the past twenty years.

NEWEST NEW YORK GOODS ARE HERE

Just back from the Eastern Market with all the latest styles in Silks, Dress Goods, Neckwear, Ribbons, Gloves, Ornaments, Trimmings, Tassels, Hosiery, etc. Many exclusive styles.

The Gingham are the prettiest ever shown in Maysville. Come in and see the new things in Collars and Trimmings, as they are different from the usual kinds.

Last call on Volles, etc., another cut, they will be just as good next summer and you will save about one-fourth by buying now and not making up until next season.

It is time to think about Blankets and Bed Coverings, lots of materials for the making and many ready made at little or no advance in price, owing to early purchases.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

At the recent special session of the Legislature of Kentucky a law was passed levying a tax of one-tenth of one per cent on the individual deposits of banks and providing that the bank may charge the tax to the depositors.

We take this means of notifying the public that out of its own funds and therefore all money deposited in this bank will be free from all State, County and City Taxes.

This Bank Will Pay This Tax for Its Depositors

Your money in this bank, on and after September 1, 1917, will be tax free, but will be subject to a tax of 40 cents on each $100, if you keep it at home.

We will continue to pay interest at the rate of 3 Per Cent, in our Savings Department.
